

Vint Cerf

The Internet Helper

Meet Vint!

Vint Cerf helped build the Internet. The Internet is a big network that links computers together. Vint made rules so computers can talk to each other. A message is cut into little packets. The packets zoom across the Internet. Then they snap back together at the end. People call Vint a Father of the Internet.

3 Draw It!

Draw a message getting cut into little packets that zoom across the Internet!

A large, empty rectangular area defined by a dashed teal border, intended for a drawing.

★ FUN FACT: The Internet does not send your whole message at once. It cuts it into tiny packets, sends them, and puts them back together super fast!
